Wells Pond is located east of Mount Vincent. The pond has no major inlet, but a short outlet flows east into the Magalloway River. The pond's shoreline is undeveloped.

Water quality in Wells Pond is good for coldwater gamefish, however suitable spawning and nursery habitats are absent. A few brook trout may enter the pond seasonally through the outlet, but numbers are too low to provide a fishery. The pond is not stocked due to restricted public access.

Access to Wells Pond is restricted by private gated roads north of Route 16. The pond is open to fly fishing only throughout the summer months and closed to ice fishing. See the lawbook for additional regulations.
